ONLINE COURSE

Language-Based Learning Disabilities: Strategies for Success Course

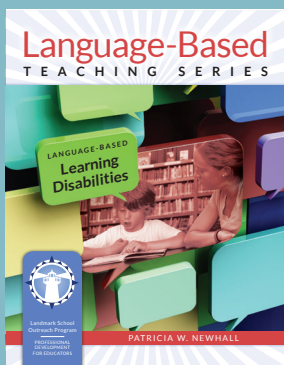

This interactive online course provides an overview of language-based learning disabilities (LBLD), as well as information and strategies specific to reading comprehension, expository writing, oral language, executive function, and cross-curricular skill application. Six course units are structured in a consistent, predictable manner, and provide the necessary background to understand why students struggle and what strategies can help them succeed in school.

- ▶ Work is self-paced so you can fit it into your schedule
- ▶ Videos show Landmark teachers putting strategies into action
- ▶ Your course instructor is a Landmark teacher, an experienced educator who understands firsthand the demands of the classroom and the specific needs of students with LBLD
- ▶ Small course sections provide opportunities to interact with the instructor and share ideas with colleagues

Language-Based Learning Disabilities Book

Accompanying and supporting the online course is the Landmark Outreach book Language Based Learning Disabilities by Patricia W. Newhall. The book is the first in a series that provides information and practical resources to help teachers understand LBLD and support their efforts to help all children learn effectively.

Key Topics Covered

- ▶ Academic Skill Areas Affected by LBLD
- ▶ Commonly Occurring Difficulties
- ▶ Strategies for Success
- ▶ Student Materials for Reproduction
