

Reader Reaction Journal

Each night you read for homework, you have the following options:

- Choose one character and describe what they are doing/going through.
- Pick a character you connect with and would want to meet. What questions would you ask him/her?
- Draw a picture that describes something you read with a description.
- Choose an event that occurred and explain it.
- Describe your feelings as you read the information. How would you feel in this position?
- Think about who or what is the most like you or somewhere you've been? Describe the comparison.
- Connect something you read to a current event. How do they relate?
- Choose 10 words that you did not know and define them. Please also include a sentence with the word in it that you have written yourself and an image that describes the word.

Each week's assignment should be AT LEAST ½ a page long and dated with the page numbers/chapter titles you read. These will be checked over the weekend.
