

The Sound of Metal - PROMPT ANALYSIS

Prompt: In the 2019 film, "The Sound of Metal", a young man struggles to find himself after suffering from hearing loss. Even though the filmmakers seem to make a sincere effort to scrutinize and eventually showcases how Ruben acquiesces to a new version of himself, one should consider if the filmmakers succeeded in representing people who identify as "deaf" or "hard of hearing" in an authentic way. Determine whether or not the film succeeds in representing this community in an appropriately meticulous and prolific manner that seeks to steer the public away from common stereotypes.
